Caution

All firearms are potentially dangerous and may cause great harm, personal injury or death. No person should handle any firearm unless such person has passed an accredited firearms safety course. Guns should be stored, transported and used with great care. Such care should also be used in placing guns into or removing guns from your holster. Your Frontier Gunleather holster should be used only with the specific gun (frame and barrel size) for which it was designed. Neither your gun nor your holster should be modified in any way, because alteration may increase the chance for accidental discharge. Always use the retainer strap (hammer thong) when your pistol is holstered. Fast draw shooting with live ammunition is not recommended, and should be restricted to full-time, paid professional shooters only.
